

we use a single direction to calculate the light contribution
 We need to divide pdf of that direction to bias its contribution